China Perspectives is an anomal academic magazine reviewed by peers. His authority is guaranteed by an editorial board composed of renowned academics and the experience of his collaborators, with the aim of providing a scientific perspective on contemporary issues. China Perspectives, a serious but legible magazine, has already proven essential for synopal synop and asthetic analysts, but its wide range and its highly informative articles can be of inter- s for anyone who wishes to improve their knowledge of the Great China. Magazine is now organized under the following Epigraphs: Special characteristic: exhaustive and profound analysis of a prominent aspect of events related to the Great China. Articles: Research Articles focused on specific issues related to contemporary Chinese books: www.cfcf.com.hk/how to present Brent Braveman, OTR, PHD, Faota, director of the Department of Rehabilitation Services, MD Anderson Cancer Center, Houston, Texas.
